Man Charged With Moonshining Rescued by Mother and Sister.

Possemen Fatally Injured.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bristol, Va., March 17 .- One officer atally wounded, another with a finger shot off, and a third frightened from the scene, is the result of a battle between three women on one side and a trio of revenue officers on the other at Long Fork, near the Pike and Letcher county birder, in Kentucky, Wednesday afternoon. The story of the battle die ot reach a telegraph station until this afternoon.

Deputy Marshal J. Martin Potter and ossemen Charles Smith and Garfield Smallwood, of Pikeville, entered the Long Fork section to arrest Charles Tackett, aged twenty, charged with moonshining. Tackett, though armed, surrendered without resistance. But his mother, Martha Tackett, sixty years of age, was angered at the pres-ence of the officers, and, together with her daughters, Nannie Tackett, aged sixteen, and Bettle Tackett, aged eighteen, concluded they would give the officers battle. The aged mother, with a Colt's pistol, and the senior daughter, with a sixteen-gauge shot gun, opened fire upon the men. At the first charge Deputy Marshal Potter, it is stated, fled from the Tackett premises, leaving his possemen as targets for the plucky women. After several shots had been fired, Smith fell, mortally wounded, being shot three times, while Smallwood lost a finger and had the crown of his hat pierced with bullets. Smith, who was fatally wounded, is a member of one of the best families in the county. The boy was then taken in charge by his mother, not an officer being lef on the scene.
